

New Models Open In Woolwich At The Enclave at Stone Meeting House

Homes on Parade is celebrating the opening of 4 new model homes at The Enclave at Stone Meeting House, a community of just 16 home sites on a lovely cul de sac, in an exceptionally convenient Woolwich Township location. It is an elegant community framed by Belgian block curbing, with spacious home sites, from $\frac{3}{4}$ - 1 acre, many with deep rear yards.

Priced from the $400s, the distinctive homes in this community offer outstanding value and incomparable design. Ranging from 3200 to over 5000 sq. ft., homes include a fireplace, partially finished full basement and Jacuzzi tub in the private owner's bath as well as many other upgrades.

All homes are built with an exceptional variety of quality features including a hardwood foyer, 9' first floor ceilings, 42" kitchen cabinets, two zone heating in most models, ceramic baths and a three car side entry garage. Stucco fronts, granite countertops and classic hardwood staircases are also included as standards in each home. In addition to the wide variety of models offered at The Enclave at Stone Meeting House, Homes on Parade will also build custom homes in this community.

According to new home sales consultant Les Newlands, "these homes are packed with value. As homebuilders we recognize that right now it's a buyer's market, but our pricing gives buyers the most for their home buying dollars. They can take advantage of that and low mortgage rates to get into a great new home at a great price. For anyone who is interested in a new home, now really is the time to get in the market."
